

THE EU DIRECTIVE ON ADEQUATE MINIMUM WAGES: A LONG ROAD AHEAD?

11 DECEMBER 2020 - H. 15.00-17.00

EU FAIR WAGES?

In early 2020 the European Commission launched its plan to intervene on fair minimum wages that, after two consultations with European social partners, has led to the recent proposal of a directive on adequate minimum wages in Europe.

This action has been welcomed with a variety of reactions from the involved actors at EU and domestic level.

We are thrilled to organise this online seminar in which we will discuss with distinguished legal scholars about the directive and its potential impact on EU Member States.

The Seminar will take place on Zoom.
Participation is free, upon registration.
To register, please, click here.

PROGRAMME

Purpose, Legal Basis and Contents of the EU Directive:

Luca Ratti - Luxembourg University

Sacha Garben - College of Europe

Jeremias Adams-Prassl - Oxford University

The EU Directive and the Member States:

Vincenzo Pietrogiovanni - Lund University

Ane Aranguiz - University of Antwerp

Eva Kocher - European University Viadrina

Niklas Bruun - Hanken School of Economics, Helsinki and Stockholm University

Stamatina Yannakourou - European University Cyprus

Concluding Remarks:

Antonio García-Muñoz - Luxembourg University

PARTICIPATE!