ADDRESSING CURRENT CHALLENGES”

Call for Papers

The Young Scholars' Section of the International Society for Labour and Social Security Law and the Union University Law School Belgrade (Union Law Belgrade) are thrilled to announce their call for papers for an international young scholars' conference on the topic Reconfiguring the Foundations of Labour and Social Security Law: Addressing Current Challenges, which will take place in Belgrade (Serbia) at the Union Law Belgrade on 8–9 June 2023.

We welcome paper proposals from different fields of law, as well as interdisciplinary projects, as long as they address the topic of the conference, i.e. a need to reconfigure foundations of labour and social security law in the contemporary world. The language of the conference is English.

Proposals should not exceed 500 words in length and should be of no more than two co-authors. They should contain a preliminary title of the paper, clear and concise presentation of the research objectives and methodology, as well as a list of up to 5 key words. Proposals should be submitted in English. Deadline for the submission of proposals is 28 April 2023.

Paper proposals should be sent to Dr. Mila Petrović, Assistant Professor at the Union Law Belgrade, and the head of the conference organizing committee at mila.petrovic@pravnofakultet.edu.rs. Decisions on selected proposals will be communicated no later than 1 May 2023.

The Conference will collaborate with the Union University Law School Review (Pravni zapisi), which is an open access, peer-reviewed journal published by Union University Belgrade Faculty of Law, indexed on SCOPUS, HeinOnline and ERIH Plus and other platforms. Within the national ranking of scholarly journals, the Review has been ranked as a leading national journal (M24) in the category of Law and Political Science. Papers from the conference may be sent to this journal, which will give serious consideration to publishing papers upon double blind peer review. Additional details on the publication process will be provided after the selection of abstracts.

The Conference will be organized as a two-day academic gathering, which will also include other social activities. Registration fee is 75 EUR. This fee will be used to cover for lunch, dinner, and social events. We will provide participants with a list of suitable accommodation in Belgrade.

We are looking forward to meeting you all in Belgrade!
