

Hybrid Symposium

Decent Work for a Decent Planet: The Green Transition at Work

4 November 2022

h 9.30-16.30 CET

- in presence at Lund University School of Economics and Management, Room EC2:169

- or virtually on Zoom

Program

- h 09.30 Registration and coffee
- h 10.00 Welcome address: Jörgen Hettne, Head of Department of Business Law, Lund University
- h 10.15 Chair: Vincenzo Pietrogiovanni, Lund University

SESSION I: The Social and Environmental in Just Transition

- h 10.30 Keynote speakers:
Beatriz Martinez Romera, University of Copenhagen: Implementing Climate Regulation in Europe: Social Contract for a Just Transition
- Lene Olsen, International Labour Organization: Just Transition Towards Environmentally Sustainable Economies and Societies for All – the Process and the Outcome
- h 11.30: Discussion
- h 12.00: Lunch break

SESSION II: Business, Decent Work and the Green Transition

- h 13.00 Panellists:
Susanne Arvidsson, Lund University: Transition Finance as the Way Forward
- Radu Mares, Raoul Wallenberg Institute: EU's Journey to Decent Work Worldwide 2022: How and Why the EU Approach to CSR Has Taken a Legislative Twist
- h 14.00: Coffee break

SESSION III: Organise, Act, Regulate: The Challenge of Green Transition on Labour

- h 14.15 Panellists:
Sam Mason, PCS: Advancing a Workers' Program for a Public, Low Carbon Energy Future
- Andrea Iossa, Kristianstad University: Democratising Work as an Eco-Social Challenge: Labour Law Issues
- Aude Cefaliello, ETUI: The Green Transition & Occupational Health and Safety: Opportunities for the Best and the Worst
- Ania Zbyszewska, Carlton University: Un-Settling Just Transition? – Reflections from the Settler Colony of Canada
- h 16.00: Discussion
- h 16.30 End of the Symposium

Participation (either online or in presence) is free of charge upon registration.
To get registered, click here!

This conference is organised by Vincenzo Pietrogiovanni thanks to the funding granted by the Centre for European Studies of Lund University