Call to participate in the 2018 residential summer school on International Labour and Business Law for doctoral students of the Universities of Ferrara and Padova, open also to EU and foreign PhD or equivalent students on the topic:

Wages in Multinational Enterprises

The Course is promoted and organized by Gian Guido Balandi of the University of Ferrara and Adriana Topo of the University of Padova, in the context of the Doctoral Schools Diritto dell'Unione Europea e ordinamenti nazionali (University of Ferrara - Rovigo) and Diritto internazionale e privato e del lavoro (University of Padova) activities.

Fondazione CARIPARO generously covers the organization costs and the residential costs for 20 PhD students. No admission fee requested to participants. Student have to support travelling expenses to and from the venue and extra expenses.

Dates: 17th - 24th June 2018

Language: English

Venue: Abano Terme, Monteortone (Padova - Italy) at "Casa di Ospitalità San Marco"

The seminar aims at deeply discussing and studying all the issues related to the present regulation of modern multinational and transnational companies and the related topics on social and business law, with particular focus on Wages. The focus will be on European and International experiences developed in a Comparative and International (private) Law context.

Faculty: Guy Davidov (University of Jerusalem), Guy Mundlak (Tel Aviv University), Sandra Polaski (former Deputy General Secretary - ILO Geneve), Roberto Fragale (Labor Judge - Universidade Federale Fluminense Rio de Janeiro).

Tutores: Silvia Borelli (Ferrara) and Barbara de Mozzi (Padova).

Each member of the international faculty gives one morning lecture and one afternoon lecture (each of 90') on the course topic in front of the students, the tutores and the faculty. Students already researching on topics related to lectures have the opportunity to discuss their research during afternoon seminars.

The topics of professors' lectures is left to their choice while a coordination will be guaranteed by the tutores who will take care, before starting of the Summer School activities, of scheduling: lectures, seminars and group works.

Admissions: Doctoral students in Employment and Labour Law and Business Law may apply by March 11th, 2018, with a brief letter, explaining their interest in participating to the initiative, attaching a recent CV and a synthesis of their PhD dissertation project. A letter of presentation from an academic working in the area of Labour Law is necessary. The knowledge of spoken and written English has to be certified. Please email the application (in only one zipped folder with Name + Summerschool 2018) to summerschool.feropd@unife.it.
